

THE CLIMAX.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1887.

The bird law expires to-morrow.

Mr. Tom Tibbitts of the firm of Tibbitts & Bount, is sick with fever.

Col. T. S. Moberley's head of Short-horns received all the first prizes at the Owensboro Fair last week.

Common Pleas Court is in session, Judge Thomas J. Scott presiding. There are 175 cases on the docket.

Mr. B. F. Watts, of Fayette county, formerly of this place, is now in this county in the interest of a nursery.

About thirty young people from Richmond and vicinity went out to Col. R. Estill's on last Friday and danced all day.

Adam Hill, an excellent blacksmith, who once lived at Elliston, this county, was the grandfather of Mrs. Jesse James. Mrs. James has a large number of relatives in the county.

W. P. Harvey, Jr., son of Rev. W. P. Harvey, Sr., of the Presbyterian church, and who has several times preached in Richmond, shot and killed James Coleman, at Harrodsburg, last week.

The fine old Estill place of 400 acres that has been in the family for more than a century, was sold at public sale on last Wednesday, but was bought by Mr. Robert Estill of Missouri, at $20 per acre, thus continuing in the family.

Mr. John L. Shuff, the exceedingly lively clerk who used to adorn the desk at the Garrett House, is now manager of the St. James Livery and Sale Stables, Jacksonville, Florida, the largest and finest livery stable in the South.

Sorrow's crown of sorrow seems to have fallen upon Hon. W. T. Tevis, of Richmond, one of the best of the good citizens of Madison county. Less than three months ago occurred the death of his young wife to whom he had been but a short time married. Yesterday his bright little ten-year-old son was thrown from a horse and killed.—Courier-Journal 18th.

Sold to the Governor. Mr. John W. Fox sold in Lexington on last Friday, to His Excellency, Governor Simon Bolivar Buckner, a pair of two-year-old geldings, 16 hands high, for $200. They are bred, as everybody hereabouts knows, and Gen. Buckner is the best equipped Governor in the way of horses that the State has had since the war.

A Faithful Few. The receipt by Mrs. Crandall of $2,000, the amount of a policy held by her husband, the late J. B. Crandall, as a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, reminds us to say that there has been a change of order here, but it was discontinued several years ago. There are now only three members of it left, John Taylor, Green B. Tarley and R. L. Gentry.

Planning Mill Purchased. Messrs. J. B. Eason and E. W. Wiggins have bought the Richmond Planning Mill, and began running on Monday. The price was $12,000, but about $4,000 worth of logs were resold off the grounds, reducing the purchase to $8,000. The original cost of the property was $15,000. Mr. Eason is a contractor and builder of great experience and skill, thoroughly understands the business and will manage the mill. Mr. Wiggins is a hardware merchant in this place, is a good business man, and will manage the office of the mill.

A Bear in Jail. A Hungarian named Dudley was coming from Winchester to Richmond—Winchester's town, he has satisfied you know—with a pet bear, and scared Mr. Luther Dykes' horse making it run away and tear up things. Mr. Dykes followed the couple to Richmond, had them arrested and lodged in jail for having committed a nuisance. They were brought before the City Court and released on the principle that if the bear had not scared at the horse, run away and busted up Mr. Dudley, Mr. Dykes would not have been responsible, therefore Dudley was not responsible.

Obituary. The first surgical operation ever performed in this county, for the removal of an ovarian tumor, so far as we can learn, was one in Richmond a week ago today. The patient was Miss Martha Smith, of this county, and she is recovering beyond the most sanguine expectation. If such cases terminate fatally, as they frequently do, the limit is forty-eight hours. The tumor weighed forty pounds. The operation was performed by Doctors Foster, Taylor, and Jennings. The patient was one of Dr. Foster's, and he called to his assistance the other gentlemen. There would doubtless have been entered a serious protest by the trio, if they had known their names were to appear in connection with the case, as it is considered unprofessional, but we take the liberty because they deserve vast praise for undertaking and successfully conducting so rare and hazardous a performance.

"In Parter Parts." Mr. French Tipton, editor of THE CLIMAX, Richmond, Kentucky, made The International an agreeable call on Monday last. Mr. Tipton was on his first visit to the North-western States and looked at the boundary concluded to run over to see what Her Majesty's domain looked like. He is immensely pleased with the Red River Valley and thinks his readers will receive him of Munchausenism when they read his accounts of the prairie country and the vast wheat fields to be seen here. Mr. Tipton resides in the famous blue-grass region of Kentucky, just east of the horses and great runners and trotters. He is an exceedingly pleasant and well informed gentleman, with a pleasing Southern accent that travel and intercourse with the Northerners since the "war" has failed to efface. Like most Southerners, he speaks of the colored people as "niggers," but unlike many looks upon the future of that abused and despised race as rather brighter than in former years, and reports that they are making fair progress in education and other matters. Mr. Tipton was the guest at the Russell House while in the Gateway City. He left on Monday for a trip over the Manitoba extension as far as Fort Buford, Montana—Manitoba International.

Handicrafts Extracts.

Mr. J. J. Brooks has a fine and varied collection of Seely's handicrafts, chief extracts at 25 cents to $5.00 per bottle. He orders in $150 lots, which is large even for a city house.

Killed by Accident.

On last Friday afternoon, Cyrus Tevis, eleven-year-old son of ex-representative W. T. Tevis, was riding horseback on the Caldwell place, about two miles from town, on the Barnes Hill turnpike. The mare leaped a ditch, and his foot slipping through the stirrup leather—he was riding his father's saddle and had his feet in the leathers—he fell off and was dragged nearly a hundred yards. A colored man and a small son of Mr. Douglas were with him, ran to him but he was dead. The shock was broken and he was considerably bruised about the head and breast. He was small and delicate. The burial occurred in the cemetery on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Tevis seems to have been in a line of distressing luck, and is entitled to great sympathy. He lost his young wife, then their infant, and now follows the sad death of a son.

Mr. William Tucker Greene, of Bluffton, Georgia, and Miss Nannie Todd, daughter of Mrs. N. G. Todd, of the Concord vicinity, Madison county, Ky., were married at the home of the bride at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Thursday, October 13th, 1887. Elder Milton Elliott, of Kirkville, officiated. Only a few relatives and friends were present. A nice supper was spread immediately after the ceremony. The couple left on Monday and will take in the Atlanta Fair on their way home. Mr. Greene is a prominent planter and merchant in south-western Georgia. He came here a year ago to visit Mr. Cyrus T. Wells and buy a lot of mules for his plantation, met Miss Todd quite a pretty and attractive girl, and the acquaintance resulted in above set forth.

DIED.

Virgine, infant daughter of B. and Ada Jowett, died at her home in Richmond, Ky., on Monday, October 17th, 1887.

Sally Doty, daughter of Dr. J. V. Doty, died of croup at the home of her parents in Fort Worth, Texas, on Saturday, October 8th, in the 7th year of her age. This is the second daughter that has died since the removal of the parents from this county to Fort Worth.

Mrs. Eliza Smith died at the home of her son, John Speed Smith, in Richmond, Ky., on Friday, October 14th, 1887, in the 60th year of her age. The funeral occurred from the Baptist church on Monday, and the burial in the Richmond cemetery.

Mrs. Smith was the mother of Rev. Green Clay Smith, Dr. C. C. Smith, Hon. J. Speed Smith, Mrs. Talbot, of Tennessee, and Mrs. David S. Goodloe, of Lexington, the last named being the mother of Hon. Wm. Cassius Goodloe, ex-Minister to Belgium, Maj. Green Clay Goodloe, of the Marine service, son-in-law of Senator James B. Beck, Dr. David S. and Judge Speed S. Goodloe. Mrs. Smith had six other children. She was the sister of Gen. Cassius M. Clay, ex-Minister to Russia, the late Hon. Brutus Clay, of Bourbon, and Mrs. Pauline Reden, deceased, of Madison county. She had five other brothers and sisters. She was the widow of the late Hon. John Speed Smith, member of Congress and daughter of Green Clay, Brigadier General in the war of 1812. Mrs. Smith was a native of Madison county, a member of the Baptist church, and retained her faculties of sight, hearing and speech to her last day. She was an accomplished woman, and until recently when wheeled up to the piano in her invalid chair, played with skill many of the pieces she learned three quarters of a century ago.

THIN COLUMN.

"A Fat Man's Misery," by Col. Jim Brooks, is the title of a new book soon to be issued. A man sat up all night, but forgot about it next day, and as he felt dreadfully stupid and out of fix generally, he consulted a physician. A dose of sleep was prescribed.
